BERLIN, Aug. 6.—(P)—Chancellor Adolf Hitler today delivered a eulogy of his predecessor, Field Marshal Paul von Hindenburg, before a packed audience of government officials, legislators, and citizens in the Kroll opera house. Then he departed by airplane for Tannenberg where, tomorrow, he will preach the funeral oration at the tomb of Germany's war hero president.

The ceremonies today were heard in the heart of Germany's capital as befitting the rites for a statesman. Tomorrow's services will be in the great monument which marks the Tannenberg battlefield where, in 1914, von Hindenburg the general turned back the invading Russians, killing 50,000 of them.

It is there that the old warrior will be entombed tomorrow and it is there that Hitler will speak again. In his speech today, the chancellor paid solemn tribute to the late president and prayed for the peace, freedom and honor of Germany.

BERLIN, Aug. 6.—(P)—From the rostrum where on July 13 he defied his killing 77 "revolutionaries" and declared he was Germany's law, Adolf Hitler today paid solemn tribute to the late President Paul von Hindenburg and prayed for the peace, freedom and honor of Germany.

HUNTSVILLE, Aug. 6.—(P)—A special session of the Walker county grand jury to investigate charges against James A. Patterson, prison guard in connection with the daring prison break July 22 in which Raymond Hamilton and two other condemned convicts escaped, was planned today.

Max Rogers, district attorney, is hurrying here from a vacation trip planned to confer with Lee Simmons, manager of the Texas prison system and Warden W. W. Waid, regarding a statement Patterson made in a newspaper in which he was quoted as admitting smuggling pistols in.

The oil wealthy and socially prominent jurist, police said, probably escaped the plot because of a telephoned warning which came just in the nick of time.

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—(P)—Cattle moved in the Chicago stockyards again today.

Handlers and commission merchants' employees, their 12-day strike settled, returned to work to face a heavy rush of livestock.

Under the terms of the settlement, arranged Saturday by Hugh S. Johnson, NRA administrator, the first full shift of union men went to work last night and others returned in the early morning. The strike involved 800 handlers and 400 commission merchants' employees.

An agreement was reached when the company promised a 48-hour week to all regular employees, and a 40-hour week for so-called "extra men" each week that receipts reach 4,000 cars.

Hard dry lime was cored in the R. L. Wheelock et al Cerf No. 1 early Monday morning about 2250 feet, representatives of the sponsors of the Trinity sand test reported Monday. Some shale breaks are encountered in the lime, reported as the Glenrose formation.

Officials denied that indication of oil had been found so far, although this rumor had wide circulation in Corsicana during the day.

The test lacks some 1250 feet of reaching the original contract depth of 6500 feet.

By FRANCIS M. STEVENSON
EN ROUTE WITH PRESIDENT
ROOSEVELT TO WASHINGTON

AUG. 6.—(P)—President Roosevelt traveled on to new western developments today with a declaration that his administration is just beginning a war on individual selfishness "to save our resources of agriculture and industry."

This statement of battle in a congressional election year was laid down last night from a tour of the splendid public park high up in Glacier National Park.

Today Mr. Roosevelt rode his special train to Glasgow, Mont., where he motors to inspect another dam, Fort Belk—on the upper Mussouri. The project will harness the stream against floods and provide eventually power and navigation for the region.

President Roosevelt is closely reviewing efforts of the government to make the Columbia and Missouri rivers of the Northwest provide places for families of the congested areas elsewhere.

"I believe," said the president, in a radio address, "we are building a better comprehension of our national needs."

"People understand, as never before, the splendid public purpose that underlies the development of great power sites, the improving of navigation, the prevention of flood and of the erosion of our agricultural fields, the prevention of forest fires, the diversification of our economy."

REACTION CAUSES

HAVE PROFITTED IF ACT
WAS ABANDONEDWASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—(P)—The farm administration, harking to the reaction stirred up by its intimation that compulsory control of cotton production might be continued in operation during the remainder of the crop year.

Protest which arose when some officials declared they believed the Bankhead compulsory control act should be abandoned led them to the conclusion that perhaps it should be continued through 1934, as an experiment in compulsion if for no other reason.

They had reasoned that if this year's cotton production fell below the 10,445,251 bales allowed in the Bankhead act, as indicated in the July crop report, there would be little need for making individual cotton allotments and taxing the excess. Few farmers would have cotton to sell in excess of their allotments and no market would exist for tax-exemption certificates, they point out.

BASIC AMERICAN AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES PRODUCED UNDER

CHICAGO, Aug. 6.—(P)—Market prices of the four basic American agricultural commodities, produced this year under a government sponsored program designed to benefit farmers, averaged today at Chicago 21 per cent higher than a year ago and 83 per cent higher than two years ago.

The steady and sometimes sharp improvement in domestic grain prices since May has accounted for the bulk of the percentage increases. The quotations, however, still are far below the all-time peaks which belong to the war and post-war era.

Prices at Chicago of wheat, corn, hogs and cotton, defined as the basic commodities by the agricultural adjustment act, showed the greatest improvement over quotations for a corresponding date in 1932 recorded so far this year.

51 Hours Life

TEMPLE, Aug. 6.—(P)—The cry of Eva Nadine Locke, one pound of perfect baby, has been stilled.

Fifty one hours after it was born, the infant, perfectly normal in every respect except for size, died in the "dresser drawer home" that had been provided for her.

Eva was active, squirming in true baby fashion and even attempting to put her tiny fist in her mouth. She cried in a reasonably strong voice.

But physicians said her size would not permit her fight for life to continue. She was buried in a tiny casket—no larger than a cigar box.

She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Locke of Yarrington.

The baby was born at 9:15 p. m. last Thursday and died at 12:30 a. m. Sunday.

There have been 6,000 cans of beef, corn, okra, peas, and other staples received at the local relief headquarters as toll for caring over the county. The relief headquarters receives 40 per cent toll for furnishing cans, etc., while the people furnish the food. The drought has seriously curtailed this work. Considerable more similar work will be done in the event rains are received in time for fall gardens. Approximately 15,000 cans have been put up.

Machinery, etc., of the county canneries located in the relief building has been lined up and is about ready to be put in operation. Canning of hogs, cattle, etc., is scheduled to get under way within the near future.

There are slightly in excess of 500 persons on government pay-rolls at the present time. Highway 22, courthouse repairs, McClendon Park, teachers, etc.

AUSTIN, Aug. 6.—(P)—C. C. McDonald, defeated democratic candidate for governor, said today his supporters had instructed him to support Tom F. Hunter in the runoff campaign.

McDonald said a poll of his supporters showed 1,016 favored support for Hunter and 31 for James V. Allred, high man in the first primary. Five wanted McDonald to remain neutral.

The big up with Allred because its time for Tom," McDonald said.

In the first campaign, McDonald said "arrayed against us was money, influence and political power, and yet we were runners up in the memorable contest. I will now answer your call and follow your flag in Mr. Hunter's campaign. We have fought the money power before; we will do so one more time and if we cannot solidly together we will win an overwhelming victory against all odds on August 25."

He added that his "own personal choice is Hunter, because I am a neighbor and have practiced law with both Hunter and Allred for years and there is no comparison from the standpoint of character and native ability."

TEXAS CROP DAMAGE WILL RUN

RECEIVED IN NEXT TEN DAYSDAI.LAS, Aug. 6.—(P)—Texas farmers figured today that unless good rains fell within ten days their drought-parched products would cost them millions of dollars.

Temperature records have been equalled and in some places broken this summer, cotton has not grown properly, wheat is far short of its normal quality, ranges have dried up, corn has turned brown, many Panhandle farmers have abandoned their homes and most of the 234 counties in the state are either on emergency or secondary drought lists.

Cotton crops in each of the widely-separated counties have been damaged more than $1,000,000 and the normal Panhandle wheat crop of 35,000,000 bushels has been reduced to 10,000,000. One rancher traveled 5,000 miles trying in vain to find pasture for his herds.

The wheat area northwest of Amarillo served by an railroad did not move a carload of the grain. It usually produces from 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 bushels. In that sector July was the hottest and driest July in 42 years.

At the request of Gov. Miriam A. Ferguson, the Texas legislature will meet Aug. 27 to authorize issuance of additional state bonds to relieve unemployment. She said she had been impressed with reports that the extended drought and other adverse conditions had created a situation of "real acute alarm."

However, Dwight P. Reordan, president of the federal interstate credit bank at Houston, expressed the opinion that good gen-

According to officers, two armed men accosted the couple as they sat in a parked car near the entrance of the State Home, and forced them to drive about the country for an hour, later leaving them and the car near the Chambers filling station on the State Home road.

The two hi-jackers are reported to have had their heads shaved and officers are of the opinion they are escaped convicts. No effort was made to harm the victims, officers said, and the bandits discussed the taking of the car, but later abandoned that theory.

The incident was reported to city officers and Deputy Sheriff Floyd and J. M. Westbrook patrolled roads in the vicinity of Corsicana and immediately west of town for some time without finding the sought men, it was reported Monday morning.

Three Americans
Held In Drive On Cuban Smugglers

HAVANA, Aug. 6.—(P)—Ten airplanes, equipped with bombs, and seven warships engaged today in a drive by the Cuban government against rum-runners.

Col. Ruben Batista, commander-in-chief of the army, led the campaign. He said he believed the smugglers taking whiskey to the United States were returning with arms and dynamite for Cuban revolutionaries.

Three Americans were arrested soon after the drive opened. They gave their names as Fredrick Wilcox, Arthur Walter and Basil Arthur.

Authorities refused to give the reason for the arrests. Jefferson Caffery, United States ambassador, said he knew nothing of a published report the trial was taken into custody at the request of the state department at Washington.

Batista expressed confidence a "large" fine would be broken up within a few days.

The government has long sought to check the flow of arms and dynamite into Cuba.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 6.—(P)—City and state officials who have arrayed opposing armed forces against each other for a week, today took their dispute to a civil district court room with Mayor T. Semmes Wamsley's authority over the New Orleans police at stake.

There, Judge Nat W. Bond opened hearing on a city suit to enjoin the functioning of a new city police board provided for in a bill pushed through the legislature by Senator Huey P. Long.

The bill, providing for taking the police authority away from the mayor through creation of a special police board named by local civic organizations, was described by the Wamsley faction as "repeal" of the Huey Long candidates by Wamsley men in the last city election. It was attacked in court on grounds of unconstitutionality, the city claiming irregularities marked its passage in the legislature.

The new board was scheduled to take office last Wednesday but was restrained from so doing by the city's injunction suit, under which the district court issued a temporary restraining order pending today's hearing.

Mayor Wamsley, who filed the action, appeared in court flanked by city attorneys to press the litigation.

Senator Long, his bitter antagonist, had temporarily dropped out of sight after visiting for several days in the executive mansion at Baton Rouge.

"Dowd is not in contempt of this court," Eastus declared, "because he was not served a writ."

Judge Irvin Vogel continued the case until this afternoon.

Dowd was cited by Judge Vogel after the O'Dare woman, since charged with conspiring to harbor the late Clyde Burrow, who he was a fugitive from justice, had been transported about the city by Dowd until the return of United States Commissioner M. E. Peters permitted the filing of charges against her.

Mary O'Dare was arrested Aug. 2 and her attorney, John Davenport, immediately instituted habeas corpus proceedings to bring about her release. Dowd kept her out of circulation pending filing of the fugitive harboring charges.

Since Raymond Hamilton's escape from "death row" at the state penitentiary July 22, officers have kept a close check on her, trying to learn the whereabouts of her faithful lover.

District Attorney Eastus expressed the belief that Judge Vogel's state court was without jurisdiction because Mary O'Dare is charged by the federal government and not with a state offense.

"Only the federal government has jurisdiction in this case," said

TEXAS CENTENNIAL CELEBRATION WILL ATTRACT THOUSANDS

WALTER D. CLINE OF WICHITA FALLS PRESENTS FACTS AND FIGURES

More than $10,000,000 additional revenues for schools and highways in Texas will result from the holding of the Texas Centennial in 1936.

It is the opinion of Walter D. Cline, Wichita Falls, member of the Texas Centennial Commission, and chairman of its executive committee.

Mr. Cline bases his estimate upon the proceeds of a crop which he asserts has been long neglected by Texas. It is the tourist crop, which in a season, in less favored states and without the incentive of a great celebration, has dropped millions of dollars into the till of diversified interests.

"Texas for too long a time has neglected the tourist crop," Mr. Cline asserts. "The explanation of this is that Texas has been the great diversity of climate and attractions Texas has to offer and they will come back year after year, and thus the Texas Centennial will continue to bring prosperity to the state through the years to come."

Figures Presented.

"A few figures should serve to open the minds of the people to the potentialities of the Centennial celebration. Before citing these figures let me say, however, that I am doing so solely for the business man and taxpayer may know that he is faced with no additional expense in the holding of the Texas Centennial. Insofar as the celebration itself is concerned it will be on a par with the cultural, historical, religious, educational and material progress of Texas, with all reverence paid the patriots of other days."

"But there will be material advantages to the state as a result of the celebration and the secondary celebrations to be held over the state, and it is these advantages I want to discuss at this time."

"Colorado in a season, with no special event, with nothing to offer except its mountains and its climate, attracted 1,300,000 tourists. They remained there an average of fifteen days, during which time they spent $58 each day a total of $870 per person for the fifteen days. Of this amount 20 cents of each dollar was spent for food and car upkeep, 20 cents went to hotels and taxi companies, 25 cents was spent in retail stores, 21 cents for food supplies purchased directly by the travelers, 8 cents for amusement and entertainment and 6 cents for sundries."

"Thousands Will Visit State."

"It is estimated that the average stay of the out-of-state visitor to the Texas Centennial celebration is thirty days. It goes without saying there will be many times 1,800,000 visitors. It is estimated the number may run to 20,000,000. Assuming half this number for purpose of expense, the state will receive a staggering amount added to the trade channels of the state as well as to the fund providing good roads and maintaining the public schools. From these figures alone it is evident that the Centennial will be a high-class financial investment both for the state and taxpayers. Incidentally it will be a fine investment for the state, which now is paying one cent in taxes upon all gasoline sold in the state."

"But figures from other states are just as convincing. Wisconsin has a tourist trade of $100,000,000 a year. Visitors are attracted there to the state parks and lakes. Reports of the highway department of that state show that in a season it attracted approximately 10,000,000 tourists. These tourists consumed 80,000,000 eggs, over 7,000,000 pounds of butter, more than 60,000,000 pounds of potatoes, peas, cabbage, beans, etc. They drank 75,000,000 gallons of beer. They spent over 250,000,000 meals in Wisconsin. The tourist season in the short period, with 700,000 attractions, offered, cost $140,233,275. In Wisconsin, the tourist trade is estimated to be the claim the Texas Centennial will cause at least $40,000,000 to be left in this state is highly conservative. This for the reason there will be the greatest stage in America, and the further reason that Texas has a much larger season in which to attract visitors."

Paved Highways.

"In the seven years Texas has spent probably more than $200,000,000 for the building and maintenance of a high-class system of roadways. They connect the cities and towns, the seashores and the mountains, the wheat fields and the fruit orchards, the oil fields and the ranch country. Before the Centennial, has ended much more will have been expended. With the attraction of the Centennial, why should not Texas spend just an infinitesimal percentage of that amount in attracting to this state, for a season, millions of people who will use these highways to contribute to the state's revenue tax toward the payment of the bonded or other indebtedness against them?"

"From every business standpoint the Centennial offers a way out for the business community of the state, and it offers substantial returns to the government of the state itself in the maintenance of its highways and in the payment of its bonded debt."

"Every parent in Texas ought to be a Centennial booster, if for no other reason because it offers this additional revenue to the public school system, assuring the payment of dollars for the payment of terms and the bettering of facilities."

"And another thing, the tourist crop once attracted to Texas and the state, will turn over the year in large volume. It is the crop that drought and flood, storm or hail will not seriously affect. It is one of the most dependable crops in which Texas can place a small investment for its development."

Wichita Falls, Aug. 4.—(P)—Mrs. Cora Hawthorne, about 40, a religious worker, was shot and killed today in a downtown grocery store and a few minutes later Mrs. Wilma Harrison, an evangelist, surrendered to a traffic officer.

She told detectives that she went across the store when her mother approached Mrs. Hawthorne so she wouldn't see the shooting.

Mrs. Hawthorne was to have preached and conducted a communion service at a Gospel center here tomorrow.

She and her mother went to the store early in the morning to do their usual shopping. Witnesses said suddenly two shots were fired, one striking Mrs. Hawthorne in the temple and the other in the chest. She died in a hospital a short time later.

Betty Harrison, 12 years old tomorrow, daughter of Mrs. Wilma Harrison, told Spence: "I'm glad I helped mama kill her."

She told detectives that she went across the store when her mother approached Mrs. Hawthorne so she wouldn't see the shooting.

PROHIBITION TAKES IMPORTANT PLACE IN DEMOCRATIC SESSION

LOCAL MINISTER AND CHATFIELD MAN ENGAGED IN CONTROVERSY

A spirited tilt between J. L. Hines, local minister, and W. A. McCants of Chatfield was held Saturday afternoon just prior to the adjournment of the Navarro county democratic convention on the question of whether delegates to the state convention would be instructed on the stand of submission of a vote on the prohibition question.

The local minister, Hines, made a statement that the resolutions committee, of which the minister was a member, had acted hypocritically in endorsing the national administration in the resolutions and then subscribed to state prohibition, was resented by the minister who called for a retraction. McCants declined to make a retraction and said he repeated his former statement. The minister stated that the convention did not instruct the delegates on the submission question, allowing the delegation to use its own judgment about the question.

George is chairman.

N. S. Crawford, county democratic chairman, opened the convention and following the roll call, E. W. George was elected temporary chairman and R. R. Owen temporary secretary. Later in the convention, George and Owen were elected permanent officials.

The credentials committee, composed of C. O. Jones, C. E. Williams, chairman; J. R. Bruner, Fred Jennings, Walter Little and W. M. Cook reported the credentials of all delegations in order. The committee reported that the organization was composed of W. T. Hipps, Fred Graves, B. R. Bonner, Mrs. J. A. Love and John Boyd.

The convention elected precinct chairmen present as delegates from precincts where conventions were not held July 28.

Resolutions Committee.

The committee on resolutions was composed of W. H. Harris, chairman; J. Griffin, Hines, J. J. Kelt and M. Montgomery. When the committee reported, the resolutions were adopted, section by section, with the exception of the permanent prohibition laws.

Chairman George asked that the delegation be instructed on the submission question, stating that he wanted to voice his protest to that dealing with the prohibition laws.

Borah Ready to Battle For Baker On Price of Bread

GLENN'S FERRY, Idaho, Aug. 4.—(P)—United States Senator William E. Borah today was aligned against the authority of the National Association of Bakers and the price of bread, with the assurance of legal support for a baker who defied a code authority order.

E. W. Nestor, this town's only baker, eliminated a one-cent increase in the price of a loaf of bread, which he had put into effect three days before on instructions of the bakery code authority for this district. Borah assured him that if he defied the code authority and was prosecuted, I will see that you get counsel without expense to you."

Nestor, without local competition, does not whip bread out of town.

"I contend that they have no right to direct you to increase the price of your bread," Senator Borah wrote the baker in response to his appeal for advice. "I not only contend that they have no constitutional right to do so, but that it is indefensible in moral and legal terms."

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(P)—Senator Borah's offer to defend a baker who defied a code authority's price order drew from the NRA today a statement that there was no authority, national or local, to compel higher bread prices.

Walter White, NRA deputy administrator formerly in charge of the baking code, said "we are co-operating to stabilize the price structure in areas where the price of bread is high."

He asserted, however, there was no official authority to maintain fixed bread prices.

our Senator and Representatives that legislation be immediately enacted which will enable the State to promptly and properly regulate and control public utilities, for it is patent to all now that there is a lack of statutory authority to properly control, curb and regulate such utilities.

EIGHTH: We would urge upon our Senator and Representatives to elect that they support legislation which will properly curb the abuse of the lobbying privilege seemingly so prevalent about our Legislative Halls.

NINTH: We are opposed to the indiscriminate pardoning of convicted criminals and do not believe that pardons should be issued except after the most careful consideration and in exceptional cases, and to this end we urge our Senator and Representatives to design and to prevent an abuse of the pardoning power, and to put beyond all reasonable possibility the likelihood of corruption in connection with the exercise of pardoning power.

TENTH: We urge upon our Legislators the enactment of legislation designed to require the members of the Senate and the House of Representatives to publish over their own signatures the names and addresses of all persons from whom they receive compensation, whether in fees, retainers, or other form of gratuity.

ELEVENTH: We believe that proper and vigorous law enforcement is the only way to meet the needs of the time; we believe that every thoughtful citizen should appreciate the magnitude of this problem and so relate himself to and so align himself with and so support our public officials in their efforts to bring about that which the people of this state are supporting them and do not intend to be satisfied except with vigorous enforcement and that the criminal element will know that the people do not intend to stand for further lawlessness and that the criminal class, all good citizens should be willing to do jury service, in criminal cases, rather than to shirk such duty. Our laws must be enforced. To this end and in this connection we urge upon the people of Texas to a strict observance of the law, and believe it is the duty of every man to abide by the law and see that his neighbor does likewise, making himself an example unto the youth of the state.

Respectfully submitted,

W. W. HARRIS, Chairman.

Ad Valorem Tax For 1934 Fixed At State Limit

AUSTIN, Aug. 4.—(P)—The automatic tax board today fixed the 1934 ad valorem tax rate at the constitutional maximum, 77 cents per $100 valuation. The general revenue fund was about 35 cents, the available school fund 35 cents and the Confederate pension fund seven cents.

The board calculated a rate of 60.1 cents per $100 would be necessary to pay the amount needed by the general revenue fund and 35.5 cents by the available school fund.

"A review of the condition of funds x x x shows a marked improvement over the condition at the close of the last biennium," the board stated.

The general revenue fund deficit at the end of the last fiscal year, August 31, 1933, was $9,377,619.75. It was estimated the deficit at the end of the current fiscal year would be $7,877,310.52, but that by 1935 the deficit would be $3,389,577.19 after allowing $458,750 to meet interest and sinking fund requirements on Texas relief bonds for 1935 and $1,603,750 for bond requirements in 1936.

Reduction of the deficit in the available school fund from $7,704,000 on August 31, 1933, to $703,567.02 on August 31, 1935, was estimated by the board. All of the 1934 apportionment of $16 per student but $2 has been paid. The board estimated all but 45 cents of the 1934-35 apportionment would be paid by the end of the fiscal year in 1935. The rate for 1935 however, was fixed at $16.50.

Estimated deficits by years in the confederate pension fund were: $5,421,513.52 in 1935; $4,579,513.52 in 1936, and $3,826,259.07 as of August 31, 1933.

Members of the automatic tax board are: Governor, comptroller and treasurer.

COTTON TEXTILE INDUSTRY DECLINE NOTED DURING JUNE

AUSTIN, Aug. 4.—(Spl.)—The Texas cotton textile industry suffered a severe decline during June in comparison with both the previous month and the corresponding month of the previous year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

Consumption of cotton by Texas mills totaled only 3,771 bales, a drop of 38 per cent from May and 36 per cent below June last year. The usual seasonal decline from May to June is 4.5 per cent. Production totaling 3,227,000 yards, was 36 per cent less than May and 44 per cent below June last year. The usual decline is 5.4 per cent.

Other factors, including the amount of cloth sold, unfilled orders, and spindle hours, showed similar declines, the bureau's report said.

Spinnings ratio margin declined three points from 164 in May to 161, according to the bureau. The decline in the ratio margin was due to the general rise in prices for the textile industry in Texas, 4.0 per cent (pence) in May to 4.04 (pence) in June. During June, 1933, the ration margin averaged 160, and the percentage margin necessitated by higher cotton prices was 160. No cotton are being taken above the Woodbine horizon but the formations are being checked by the log of the E. L. Smith well drilled nearby.

Little trading is reported in royalty on the basis of the Texas oil fields. The widely scattered ownership. Some leases are reported changing hands.

O'DARE COUNSEL IS SEEKING REDUCTION PRISONER'S BOND

THREATENS FEDERAL AGENT WITH CONTEMPT OF COURT PROCEEDINGS

FORT WORTH, Aug. 4.—(P)—Counsel for Mary O'Dare, the hearer of Raymond Hamilton, criminal, planned an appearance in federal court here today to seek reduction of a $100,000 bond set against the woman after being charged with conspiring to harbor the late Clyde Barrow, king of Texas' bad men.

John Davenport, Mary's attorney, who clashed with Federal Agent E. Ray Dowd at Mary's arraignment before United States Commissioner Melville Peters at Wichita Falls yesterday, sought his client's release from Judge James C. McCreary.

"I wouldn't turn Raymond in for a million dollars, and I can contact him at any time," the hearing was further enlivened when Davenport threatened to serve with a citation for contempt of court on the grounds that Dowd failed to produce Mary in a district court for a habeas corpus hearing.

"That is outrageous," Dowd exclaimed.

"I'm not accustomed to having my clients treated in such a manner and I shall prosecute the contempt charges to the bitter end," Davenport shouted back.

Federal agents alleged that Hamilton and Mary were companions of Barrow and Bonnie Parker shortly before they were slain on a Louisiana road by officers of the Louisiana state police. Mary, by her own admission, stayed with Hamilton several days after he had been liberated from a Texas prison farm. She divorced her husband with the understanding that he would take care of her. Hamilton was a district court for a habeas corpus hearing.

SENATE PROBES SUGGEST CLEANING IN SALES METHODS

CLAIM BANKING HOUSES USED "SHOCKING, SCANDAL- OUS" TACTICS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—(AP)—A senate committee suggested a house-cleaning today to purge Wall Street investment banking "abuses."

Declaring banking houses used "shocking" and "scandalous" methods in selling the public billions of dollars of securities, many of which have become almost worthless since 1929, the committee declared:

"Many of the abuses in investment banking have resulted from the incompetence, negligence, irresponsibility or profusion of individuals in the capacity."

"Such abuses can be eliminated only by the elimination of such persons from the field. Other abuses are inherent in the American system and are, therefore, susceptible of remedial legislation."

The banking committee made this statement in the second chapter of its report on the senate's stock market and banking investigation, in the course of which it cited past practices of J. P. Morgan and company, Kuhn, Loeb and company, The National City Company, Dillon, Read and company, and others. State Will Demand Death Penalty For Slayer of Daughter

HOUSTON, Aug. 6.—(AP)—Selection of a jury to try Elijah Stuart, 27-year-old unemployed Houstonian, for murder of one of his twin, year-old daughters, Dortha, was under way in district court here today.

Seven jurors had been accepted before the noon recess.

Questions propounded by prosecutors to prospective jurors indicated they would ask the death penalty.

Dortha, the surviving twin, played about the corridors with children from her neighborhood.

HOUSTON, August 6.—(AP)—

State's attorneys prepared today to begin a court fight for the life of a 27-year-old daughter, Dortha, to collect insurance for the support of her twin sister.

Tom Harris, assistant district attorney, said the state would demand the death penalty.

Stuart, at the time of his arrest, told officers he was financially unable to provide for both the twins.

The defense indicated it would base its fight on a plea of insanity. State attorneys who examined Stuart pronounced him sane.

Stuart reported to authorities his child had been kidnapped. The child's body was found submerged in Cypress creek. Stuart later made a statement, saying he carried the sleeping child to the creek, clasped his hand over her mouth and submerged her head in the water until she ceased struggling.

LARGE CROWDS AT SUNDAY SERVICES OF FIRST BAPTIST

Another large crowd heard Rev. E. T. Miller, pastor of the First Baptist church, preaching Sunday night in the outdoor service.

The subject was "The Faith That Saves." He preached to a large congregation at the morning hour also, bringing a message on the subject of "God's Great Love."

At the morning service, the music with the choir singing "O Praise the Lord" by Stults, C. C. McClung led in the evening music, directing the congregation, singing and singing the special soloist, brought an appropriate message through song, singing, "Saved By His Wonderful Grace" by Morton.

The Sunday school had 515 in attendance and the B. T. S. had 188, the former being a slight increase and the latter a small decrease. Special programs were given in all departments.

Miss Pearl Kitzinger gave a chalk talk in the closing assembly of the Baptist Training Service illustrating the theme "Witnessing for Christ."

Authorities Seek Identity of Girl Found Beaten Death

HOLLISTER, Cal., Aug. 6.—(AP)—State police and local authorities sought today to establish the identity of a young woman, about 25, whose battered body was found on a little used road near here.

The woman had been brutally beaten, police said, then carried in an automobile to the Old Rock Road two miles southwest of San Juan and thrown onto the rocky ground.

Mrs. Anne Perry of San Francisco left there for Hollister on the possibility the body might be that of her daughter, Alleen, 16, who disappeared at the age of 15.

Tulsa authorities questioned a man who applied at a hospital there last night for treatment of a gash on a shoulder, a wrenched hip and cuts and bruises.

Dr. L. C. Hull said there were no indications the girl had been criminally assaulted.

Northside Baptist Occupied New Home First Time Sunday

Occupying our own building added new zeal in the Sunday services. Much new work is being planned.

MODES OF THE MOMENT

The fur-trimmed town coat displays new necklines, with matching muffs an intriguing feature.

Liana Merwin

Flat furs will predominate this fall, because the new suede finish and smoother broadcloths which are being featured in the fabrics will not take the long-haired furs.

The fabric in the lovely model shown above is a jaquard woven in a new shade of tan. The soft beaver collar "buttons over" in a clever manner and is a pleasing color to combine with tan.

This coat is a very dressy model, yet it is the richness of the fur and fabric used which makes it so. The accompanying muffs play a big part in the success of this coat, as it adds another smart trimming touch. The front of the muffs is of beaver, the body of the tan material, with a handy slide fastener purse, cleverly concealed inside.

Coat fabrics are interesting and bear closer inspection. Soft cashmere broadcloths, diagonal broadcloths, jacquard, worked, tapestry woolsens and many more novel weaves are used in the new season's dressy coats and stress the importance of fabrics.

Black, of course, leads for fall, with forest and scotch green, gray, russet, tobacco brown and many new shades of wine following closely in order.

Easter Holiday Will Supplant Single Days At University Texas

AUSTIN, Aug. 6.—(SPL)—A spring vacation of three days, two immediately preceding and one following Easter Sunday, is to be substituted this coming scholastic year and hereafter at the University of Texas for the three single holidays formerly the custom.

This proposal, made by the general faculty, met the approval of the University board of regents, and by order of President H. Y. Benedict, has been made effective for the 1934-35 session.

The Easter vacation will supplant the usual observance of Washington's birthday, on Feb. 22, Texas Independence day on March 2, and San Jacinto day on April 21. It is felt that this practice will bring the university more in line with other major educational institutions.

It is further provided that instead of having a full-day holiday on Nov. 11, classes merely be suspended for such a time as is necessary to enable the university to participate in local Armistice day celebrations.

NINE DEAD AFTER STORMS SWEEP OVER EASTERN DISTRICT

EASTERN MICHIGAN HARD-EST HIT WITH EIGHT DEAD AND HEAVY DAMAGE

(By The Associated Press.) Storms which swept the Atlantic seaboard and Great Lakes states left nine persons dead in Eastern Michigan and possibly five in Ohio.

Wind, rain, hail, and lightning, striking yesterday, last night and early today, wreaked heavy damage to homes, commerce, shipping, utilities and communication. Train rails were washed out near Townsend, Del. Trolley and telephone poles and trees were blown down and cellars were flooded in the Niagara Falls district.

High tide on the Cohansey river flooded Bridgeton, N. J., roomed the city for four hours and threatened water famine for a time. Twenty-five families fled in night clothing from an apartment house a half hour before it toppled into the river.

A suddenly-formed twister destroyed eight homes and injured a dozen persons at Hickory Point, Md., a summer colony south of Baltimore.

Hailstones and lightning came with the wind and the rain to Ohio towns, Lorain, Sandusky, Cedar Point, Vermilion, Put-in-Bay, an island town, was cut off from communication with the mainland for hours. Its houses were unroofed, a warehouse was demolished and boats were torn from their moorings.

Power service was crippled and homes and crops were severely damaged in Central Illinois by lightning winds and heavy rains and hail.

DETROIT, Aug. 6.—(P)—Eastern Michigan, fixing its casualty list at eight dead and scores injured, plunged today into the task of clearing debris-strewn roads and repairing storm damage unofficially estimated at $1,000,000. Homes and stores in a dozen communities between Detroit and Flint must be reconstructed.

The storm struck late yesterday with a fury which blackened the sky for an hour, pelted the countryside with hail, disrupted wires and highway communication and beached the excursion steamer Tashmoo with its 250 passengers in the St. Clair river.

WALTER R. DUNLAP, 55, of East, heart attack while moving furniture.

ROBERT WILLET, 10, Detroit, drowned near Pontiac when boat upset.

M. N. WILLET, 33, his father, drowned trying to aid Robert.

INDICATIONS POINT TO FALL TRADE NEAR THAT OF LAST YEAR

RETAIL DISTRIBUTION MAINTAINED ABOVE LEVEL OF YEAR AGO

NEW YORK, Aug. 2.—(P)—Current indications point to a fall trade not much below that of last year, but on a more orderly basis and "devoid of the extreme fluctuations of that period," says the Dun and Bradstreet weekly business review.

"The maintenance of retail distribution above the comparative level of a year ago is one of the most reassuring factors in the present situation," the summary states. "Reports this week show the largest gains on the Pacific Coast where postponed buying of urgent needs crowded the stores with shoppers who had been forced to curtail budgets for more than two months on account of the strike."

"The southwest the industrial and wholesale divisions have been affected seriously by the drought but retail trade has held up remarkably well, with the gains in sales running steadily around 25 per cent better than at this period of year ago. In the Midwest there was a brisk turn for better in most districts, while in the east, more comfortable summer weather and special promotional events lifted the total of retail sales to the best position achieved in nearly three weeks."

The agency finds that although business has already started upward again, there is an urgent need for some strong stimulus to enable the turn to gather momentum and suggests that extension of industrial credits by the government coupled with the home modernization program, will make long strides in the desired direction.

The business activity barometer of the agency reversed the downward trend of the preceding three weeks, rising 0.1 of a point to 62.8.

BOY PRONOUNCED DEAD FROM DROWNING IS REVIVED BY COP WHO WAS EXHIBITING METHODS

By DALE HARRISON

MANHASSET, N. Y., Aug. 4.—(P)—The boy was dead. The coroner said so. They called the undertaker.

Everyone in the crowd that gathered on the dock when the lad, Stanley Kadlubski, 10, was hauled from Manhasset Bay early last night agreed. No one can stay under water ten minutes and live.

A doctor examined the body. No pulse, no breathing, no movement. The boy was dead.

The coroner came. He shouldered his way through the group gathered about the silent form, and made his professional examination. He executed the papers of death. One cannot drown in Manhasset Bay except there be coroner's papers later to make it official.

The crowd remained, awaiting the arrival of the undertaker. John Symes of the Nassau county police was present. He was not too experienced with tragedy of the sea, but at police headquarters had paid attention to the course in life saving.

One of Stanley Kadlubski's eyelids fluttered. It wasn't much, but Dr. Gurin saw it and leaped forward. Life!

A few minutes later the boy, holding in his left hand a certificate stating he departed this life at 7:25 p. m., was shaking hands with the coroner.

As they waited for the hearse, Symes stepped forward.

"Let me show you fellows how they taught us to save lives at police school," he remarked.

The policeman bent over the body of the boy who had been pronounced dead two hours before. The steady pumping of arms, pushing of chest began. Artificial respiration.

The coroner had completed his report, and waited impatiently for the undertaker. Dr. David Gurin stood nearby, likewise waiting.

The limp arms of Stanley Kadlubski were being pumped rhythmically as Officer Symes warmed up to his exhibition of police school methods of life saving.

One of Stanley Kadlubski's eyelids fluttered. It wasn't much, but Dr. Gurin saw it and leaped forward. Life!

A few minutes later the boy, holding in his left hand a certificate stating he departed this life at 7:25 p. m., was shaking hands with the coroner.

TEXAS CENTENNIAL WEEK TO BE OBSERVED; PROCLAMATION SATURDAY BY GOV. FERGUSON

A proclamation by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, setting aside the week of August 13, as Texas Centennial Week was made public here today by Lowry Martin, vice-president of the commission and chairman of the publicity committee.

Proclamation by the Governor of the State of Texas: To All to Whom These Presents Shall Come:

Ninety-eight years ago on March 1 in the quiet of Washington-on-the-Brazos a little group of clear, calm men, sorely tried by a tyrannical government and weary from conflict, drew aside from the din of battle and solemnly deliberated. From their common council on the next day came Texas' Declaration of Independence. That declaration took on strange force a month and nineteen days later when Sam Houston and his small band of Texans, devoted to the principles of the newly created republic, won the victory of San Jacinto.

Upon the civilization thus founded, always bearing in mind the heroic deaths of that small band at the Alamo, the massacre at Goliad and the privations of the pioneer, we have built. Now Texas ranks among the first states of the union in cultural and economic progress.

As this first century of progress draws to a close the state of Texas is turned to 1934. A great centennial, depicting in true form these years of achievement is to be thrown open to the people of the United States and of the world. Such great exhibition has been authorized by act of the Texas Legislature.

For the purpose of acquainting every citizen of the State with the great objects of this patriotic movement it is altogether fitting that a Centennial week be designated in which every village and hamlet and every town and city the message of the heroism of the Texans of other years be retold, their memories honored, and instilled in the minds and hearts of these descendants of rugged fathers and mothers that though Texas never surrender, that from this depression of recent years, new resolution has been born, irresistibly carrying forward the flag of the Lone Star into fields yet undeveloped, but open to the eyes and imagination of citizens here and those to come to us through succeeding years.

For the purposes herein stated, now, therefore, I, Miriam A. Ferguson, governor of the State of Texas, by virtue of the authority me and that I officially proclaim that the week beginning TEXAS CENTENNIAL WEEK as a special time during which Texas Centennial shall be discussed in every social and business table, and in all other places where men and women congregate, to the end that Texas shall become Centennial minded and that plans now definitely made for carrying forward in 1935 this great project to a successful conclusion may be consummated.

FEDERAL CONTROL OF POWER RESOURCES IS ROOSEVELT PLAN

PRESIDENT GETTING FIRST-HAND KNOWLEDGE NORTH-WEST PROJECTS

GRAND COULEE DAM SITE, Wash., Aug. 4.—(P)—Senator C. C. Dill (D-Wash.) today gave to President Roosevelt full credit for conceiving the plan for development of the Columbia river, with the three-fold objective of power production, flood control and reclamation of more than 1,000,000 acres in the Columbia Basin project.

Senator Dill introduced the president to the thousands of persons gathered in the natural amphitheater at the head of the Grand Coulee as "the greatest builder who ever sat in the white house."

The senator predicted "this river will become the principal power source of a super-power system to provide electricity without profit all over the United States."

By FRANCES M. STEPHENSON

ROOSEVELT WITH PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT TO WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(P)—President Roosevelt crossed the Pacific Northwest today with an announced policy that the government is going to control natural resources and expand this section.

Hailed home along the way from his American territorial sea trip by great outpourings of people, Mr. Roosevelt proceeded with his immediate sides to the federal projects of the Columbia river.

Today he approached the key-stone of the northwest development—the Grand Coulee Power and navigation plan. In this, he expects the giant of the north—the Columbia to be thoroughly harnessed and brought under government control.

On the lower banks of Columbia late yesterday, overlooking steam shovels and trucks at the Bonneville damsite, the President made his first talk after returning to United States soil.

"I always believe in the old saying, 'More power to you,'" he said. "I don't believe that you can have enough power for a long time to come, and the power that is developed here is going to be power which for all intents is going to be controlled by government."

The President conceived the power projects as "yardsticks so the people of this country will know they are paying the proper price for electricity of all kinds."

One yardstick, Mr. Roosevelt said, already has been started on the Colorado river. The Tennessee valley and the Columbia basin are being developed. "And the fourth, the St. Lawrence, is going to be started," the President promised.

Traveling last night among the people of this frontier section, Mr. Roosevelt was at the back of the crowd at the Bonneville damsite, where he asked how the fishing was, and added he had snared a "pretty good haul" in the Pacific.

Indians in war paint and feathers doing a snake dance and three Indian boys welcomed Mr. Roosevelt as his train crossed over the Oregon boundary into Washington.

Feared Dynamite Plot.

SPOKANE, Idaho, Aug. 4.—(P)—A dynamite and three percussion caps found lying near the railroad right-of-way over which President Roosevelt's train passed early today led to extreme precautions of federal and county officers to avert a terrorist attack against the Presidential train.

Roosevelt's train passed over the spot, two and a half miles southwest of Spokane, without any untoward incident.

The caps were discovered by a Union Pacific agent four days ago, who became suspicious of three men he saw depositing a package. Sighting through a watch tower door, the agent directed searchers to find the caps, who found them hidden in the bush.

"We thought possibly the dynamite might have been intended for the President's train," said Sheriff George Miles today in disclosing the discovery, "and we were taking no chances."

For four days a heavily armed body of secret service men and sheriff's deputies watched the spot.

"We kept the guard there," Miles said, "to capture the men if they returned for the explosives."

SMALL FOR HUNTER BUT WILL TAKE NO PART IN CAMPAIGN

AMARILLO, Aug. 3.—(P)—State Senator Clint Small, of Amarillo who ran fourth for governor in the Democratic primary last Saturday, said today he would vote for Tom Hunter in the second primary, but would take no active part in the campaign.

"Many people are asking the question as to which of the two candidates for governor I shall select in the runoff primary have decided to answer all of these questions at one time, in a public statement," said the state senator.

"My campaign for law enforcement was made in good faith and with a sincere desire to improve conditions business and industry in this state. The deplorable conditions that now exist are due to a lack of effort on the part of those now vested with authority. This being true I naturally want a new order of things and will vote for Mr. Hunter for governor."

"I am not attempting to tell any friend of mine how he should vote. The class of people who gave me the support need no help to arrive at the proper conclusion. I shall take no interest in the campaign further than to cast my vote."

WAR DEPARTMENT PERFECTING PLANS TO ENCIRCLE NATION WITH ANTI-AIRCRAFT DEFENSE

LOYD A. LEHBRAS

Copyright, 1934, by the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.—(P)—The war department has perfected a $250,000 plan to encircle the United States with anti-aircraft defenses.

These plans will be laid before the next session of congress. They call for the newest thing in anti-aircraft guns, searchlights and fire control equipment.

Eight regular army regiments, 27 National Guard regiments, 19 inactive regular army regiments.

The disclosure follows studies by war department experts, who called American anti-aircraft defenses inadequate.

Secretary of War Dern, as a result of a recent inspection, is described as feeling that the Panama Canal is seriously lacking in defense against enemy aircraft.

Army men are moving to strengthen their air forces, also. The air corps has submitted a program to buy about 1,000 planes to bring its fleet up to the 2,340 urged by the Newton D. Baker investigating board. The general staff's approval is expected soon.

Congress has the say about providing the money. Although the program is designed for 1934, it is not expected that more than 500 planes will be purchased that fiscal year. That, with other purchases already planned for the interim, would bring the army 1,800 serviceable planes.

At present the United States has four skeletonized anti-aircraft organizations in this country and four in Panama, Hawaii and the Philippines. The war department more, using those units to full strength and equipment. The National Guard organizations also are described as "woefully lacking in modern equipment."

FARMERS OF THREE STATES IN DIRE NEED OF RAIN FOR CORN CROP AND STOCK WATER

CHICAGO, Aug. 3.—(P)—Farmers of Iowa, Wisconsin and Illinois scanned the skies anxiously today for signs of rain.

Twenty-four counties in Southwestern Iowa, ravaged by chinquapins, are in dire need of rain. Soil moisture, are in dire need of water and feed for livestock. Hay and pastures, particularly in the Southwest quarter of the state, are being uprooted and are in danger of being washed away.

More than half the farmers in some townships are without a water supply. Federal relief officials are considering the feasibility of employing an army of well diggers.

Hay is at a premium. Many agriculturists have exhausted last year's supply and no current crop is in sight.

Crop observers report that corn still has an excellent chance in Central Iowa, while it may yield a bumper harvest in the northern parts of the state. Pastures in the latter sections are returning to normal.

Most Illinois farmers hold hopes for a pretty good corn crop, if a recent fall. Substantial downpours on July 4 washed away fears of a general crop failure and heavy showers drenched most of the central and southern parts of the state yesterday. More rain is needed.

The drought retains a firm grip in about 20 counties along the Mississippi valley and in scattered areas in the southern end of the state.

Federal observers report that corn prospects are rather hopeless and that the water shortage is acute on farms opposite Keokuk, Iowa, and extending along the river almost to Cairo.

Some towns have been forced to ration water supplies.

BULLETS ACCOMPANY BALLOTS IN TENNESSEE PRIMARY AND THREE MEN SHOT TO DEATH

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Aug. 3.—(P)—Bullets accompanied ballots in Tennessee yesterday. Three men were killed in election quarrels: Governor Hill McAllister and Senator K. D. McKellar were nominated.

Governor McAllister, direct descendant of two Tennessee chief executives, defeated Lewis S. Pope, Nashville lawyer, for the democratic nomination for governor. Senator McKellar ran away from Dr. John R. Neal for the nomination for a six-year term in the senate.

The casualty list: John Tallant, 40, fatally wounded in a quarrel at Madisonville, Beecher, Philpa, Neal for the death in Anderson county. A deputy sheriff was wounded.

Guy Sutherland, shot to death while watching election returns at Memphis. Landslide helped Governor McAllister to victory. It was the fourth race between him and Pope. Two years ago Pope unsuccessfully contested McKellar's victory and former

ASTRINGENT FACE MASK

Home Made Mask. Miss Forbes tells you again today some ways of having face masks treatments at home, without expense, to tighten the muscles and to eliminate bad wrinkles.

Last week I made some suggestions for a mask made of linen to fit over the face, to be used in the treatment of wrinkles, or sagging muscles. In case you have forgotten, you take a piece of soft linen, or two or three thicknesses of cheesecloth which is a little wider than your face, and about four inches longer. Hold this over the face and mark where your eyes are, and mouth, at so your nose. Make a slit where the mouth comes two holes, one for each eye, and a slit running up and down for the nose. Button-hole these loosely so the fabric does not pull out. Sew four tapes on, one on each side over the ears, two on the bottom corners, which will hold the material under the chin, and which will tie over the head.

You can rub the face thickly with cream and then lay this mask over it, tying it tightly. Use enough cream so that plenty still remains on the skin after the mask has absorbed a portion. After it has been on the skin for 15 or 20 minutes soak the mask with some good astringent. This combination of cream and astringent is excellent for the face since it feeds the pores with oil and at the same time tightens the muscles. You can only achieve this combination by using the face mask.

If you have rather bad wrinkles, cleanse the skin with oil and wipe it off thoroughly, then tie on the mask and soak it in skin tonic; as it dries out soak it again so as to keep the face wet for 15 minutes or more. Witch hazel is very good and so is the cheap West of all the astringents—plain water, to which a few drops of tincture of benzoin have been added. If you have a double chin and want to treat it with ice, tie on this mask and wet it, then rub ice over it until the skin is thoroughly chilled. Crack up some ice, bind it under the chin and leave it on until the cold begins to hurt. Five minutes of this treatment daily is marvellous.

John V. Cases of fallen arches and flat feet are too serious for any one to handle but a doctor, or some one who specializes in the care of the feet. Each individual case varies also and needs its own care. Corns and callouses are often caused by misplaced bones in the feet, and while they may be removed and give temporary comfort, they will always return because the cause is still there.

Federal Raid In Fairfield District

LAPSE WASHINGTON '21 NAVAL TREATY DESIRED BY FRENCH

DISSATISFACTION OVER THE LACK OF PRESTIGE IN RELATION ITALY

By RICHARD MASSOCK
Associated Press Foreign Staff
PARIS, Aug. 6.—(AP)—French officials indicated today that a lapse of the Washington naval treaty of 1921 would conform to French desires.

France, they said, has always been dissatisfied with the treaty, feeling that the French navy was not granted sufficient prestige in relation to that of Italy.

This attitude was expressed today in connection with preparations now going forward preliminary to the 1935 naval conference which is intended to design a new naval treaty for the United States, Great Britain, Japan, France and Italy.

Already France has begun a naval rejuvenation which the government sees as a means to obtaining a better bargaining position at a naval conference.

The construction of three new 26,500-ton battleships is in prospect. Their completion would bring the French heavy craft up to the 175,000 tons capital ships limit allotted by the 1921 treaty to France and Italy, neither of which signed the London treaty of 1930.

It was pointed out, likewise, that France could scrap the six capital ships she now has in the service—all of them have served more than their twenty legal years—add four more battleships, and still be within the Washington limit.

This possibility is regarded as a threat against an Italian attempt at a naval-building race, including ships under construction, the French navy on Jan. 1, 1934, totaled 183 ships whose tonnage totaled 659,004. They were: 10 capital ships; 11 airplanes; 12 cruisers, first-class; 17 cruisers, second-class; 80 destroyers; 7 submarines, old; 78 submarines, new.

BANKHEAD ACT

However, there is the argument that abandonment of the act would give large cotton producers, who have the advantage of scientific control of the boll weevil and improved fertilizers, the opportunity to market their stimulated production on fewer acres with-out paying the tax now required by the act.

Sales of fertilizers in Southern states in recent months have indicated that some producers were attempting to increase production by using the act.

Under the Bankhead act these producers, if they produced in excess of their allotments, would be required to pay the tax of 50 per cent of the value of their cotton when it was ginned or purchased. Exemption certificates from farmers who raised less than their allotments, officials explained.

Proponents of the act declared, therefore, was likely it would be kept in operation as an experiment in compulsory control of cotton production and to prevent large producers from profiting at the expense of reductions made by small producers.

Famous Aviatix Is Killed at Dayton

DAYTON, O., Aug. 6.—(AP)—Over the air lanes she flew fearlessly to life, Mrs. Frances Harrell Mar-23, will travel in death.

The aviatix, co-holder of the women's refusing endurance flight record, was killed yesterday when the light biplane plunged to earth within sight of the last marker of the 50-miles feature race of the National Women's Air meet.

Tentative arrangements were made to take her body by plane back to her home at Garden City, Long Island, N. Y.

Her ship crashed in the backwash of five other planes, nosed down, dug a hole three feet deep in the ground, then somersaulted. Belief that she was attempting to avoid collision with two of the planes was expressed by Frank Reibold of Dayton, one of the judges at the pylon nearest the scene.

TEXAS CROPS

eral rains before Aug. 15 probably would improve conditions materially. He intended, out that forage crops might be replaced and ranges be put in fair condition for the fall and winter.

Bright spots in the dark drought picture appeared only in far Northeast Texas and extreme South Texas, Reardon said.

Gulf Area Affected.
The Texas relief administration reported that drought affected all but a few counties along the Gulf coast. Five of them, however, suffered additional losses in the hurricane ten days ago and will need further aid. Corpus Christi had to limit the water supply for outdoor domestic purposes for a time but the Gulf storm replenished the sources.

The state's relief case load jumped from 158,000 in June, and 206,000 last month to 241,000 this month. Neal Guy, assistant field supervisor in charge of drought statistics, estimated that 70,000 of the present cases were directly attributed to the drought.

More Funds Allotted.
Federal relief allotments for July in Texas reached $3,648,450, of which $1,279,724 was for work in draught counties and Washington has allotted $1,000,000 for drought relief in August. The state in July spent only half of $2,235,726 of distributed relief funds.

The federal surplus relief corporation has bought more than 300,000 head of cattle and is continuing at the rate of 20,000 daily. The government now is buying cattle in 192 counties. Nearly 2,000 are slaughtered daily for canning in 19 federal plants in operation.

Shipping to slaughtering plants and 8,000 are turned daily into pens or pastures operated by the government.

The widespread drought has affected employment adversely in the rural sectors and the condition may become worse in the winter, but the situation in the better-established industrial and commercial enterprises has been well sustained.

janitor by inquiries concerning Hefner's habits, and warned him to take care.

Hefner then called police who arrived too late to catch the burly suspect, clad in overalls, and described as about 35 years old, about 5 feet, 9 inches tall and weighing about 180 pounds.

Investigation disclosed such a man and two companions, about 30 years old, one tall and slim with dark hair, the other, only slightly smaller than his chief, with sandy red hair, had made inquiries concerning Hefner's goings and comings from other persons in the neighborhood.

The investigation came just a little more than a year after the sensational kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, oil millionaire, from his home here for $200,000 ransom.

PRISON BREAK

side the prison to the desperate does.

Guard Admits Guilt.
Patterson, charged with smuggling three automatic pistols inside the prison for delivery to the convicts, admitted yesterday in a signed statement that he brought the weapons into the prison, Simmons and Waid said.

Until shortly before he made his signed statement, Patterson has denied he knew of the planned break and said he did not know how the pistols found their way into the prison. He admitted receiving an amount of money for the act, but Simmons declined to reveal the amount.

"We will divulge all of the facts of the case at the proper time, which is the trial," Simmons said.

"Warden Waid and I have found after going into every detail that those responsible for the escape of Hamilton, Joe Palmer and Irvin (Blackie) Thompson, are Guard Patterson, for smuggling in the three automatic pistols, and Guard Carey Burdeaux, for failure to discharge his sworn duty when occasion demanded same.

Burdeaux Sworn Duty.
"We have found no dishonest acts whatever in regard to the conduct of Burdeaux but we have found a sworn statement from Guard Patterson that he did deliver the guns inside the walls and that he received pay for the same."

The "payoff" man, who is said to have delivered the money to Patterson in a flour sack at a Huntsville beer parlor, was sought. It was reported he was a former inmate of the prison.

T. J. Steele, justice of the peace, in 1919, believe the escape plot, in which he participated and three gained their freedom, was hatched by Whitey Walker, killed as he attempted to scale a ladder to freedom. Roy Johnson and Charlie Frazier were also shot down by guards.

An attorney, who authorities said talked to Patterson over long distance telephone prior to the break, the penitentiary last week, officials said.

Adolf Hitler, who eulogized the president in an address before the reichstag in Berlin, will be the speaker at funeral exercises tomorrow.

Hitler Will Speak.
Before a ceremony Von Hindenburg's body will be taken from the tower to a catafalque in front of a large cross where are buried 20 unknown soldiers killed in the battle of Tannenberg. Here Hitler will speak. Six hundred men have been at work in dandy night shifts erecting tents for the thousands of mourners.

Servants of the dead leader attended a service for him yesterday at the parish church, many of them weeping. Religious services throughout Germany were dedicated to Von Hindenburg.

HITLER'S SPEECH

leader spoke. "I implore you all now to look beyond this transitory moment into the future. Let the strong realization enter our hearts: The Herr Reichs President Field Marshal General Von Hindenburg is not dead.

"He is living. For in dying he now wanders above us amidst the immortals of our people surrounded by the great spirits of the past as an eternal patron and protector of the German Reich and the German nation."

Defends Von Hindenburg.
Hitler declared the late President was "as innocent of the beginning of the war as anybody in the world could be," pointing out that when the conflict began in 1914, Von Hindenburg was living in retirement, having taken his discharge from the army at the age of 64 on March 18, 1911.

The new leader of Germany praised Von Hindenburg as a military commander and declared: "Had the political leadership of our people during this period been congenial with the military, Germany would have been spared the greatest humiliation ever to go down in history."

He said that the world war broke upon a German people "sacredly convinced of having attacked without their guilt."

Talk Non-Political.
The chancellor's address, delivered before a hushed audience in the Kroll opera house—which still serves as the temporary Reichstag building following last year's fire—was non-political in character, although he made frequent references to the principles of his own regime in tracing Von Hindenburg's career.

With his voice choked in emotion, Hitler declared: "We want to preserve the miracle of this new resurrection of our people as a precious inheritance of a great age and we want to pass it on to the generations that come after us. He who thus observed fidelity to his people shall himself ever remain unforgotten in fidelity."

Prince of Wales
Refuses Role Hero
In Rescuing Youth

BAIRRITZ, France, Aug. 6.—(AP)—The Prince of Wales refused today to play a hero's role for aiding in the rescue of a lad from drowning yesterday.

The small boy was caught by a huge wave which lifted him from the beach into a swimming pool. The prince was one of those who plunged to the aid of the choking lad and pulled him to safety.

Prince Edward pointed out that he was only one of a number surrounding the pool at the time. Many persons crowded about to congratulate him.

Shortly after the incident, the prince returned to his villa. He arrived several days ago for a vacation.
